The Trap

Wasp was flying across New York City on a beautiful day.

"Wow, what a great day, no supervillains, no one trying to capture me, how could it get any better?" said Wasp.

As Wasp continues to fly, a sphere shaped robot and fires a beam that teleported her to some abandoned warehouse when she shrinks down to her normal human size.

"Okay, how did I get here?" asked Wasp.

"You're not the only one Janet." said Ms Marvel

"Carol, how did you get here?" said Wasp

"Don't know how, but I'm going to find out?" said Ms Marvel.

Quake, Mockingbird, and Black Widow just got teleported.

"Huh?" said Mockingbird.

"What the?" said Quake.

"How is this possible?" said Black Widow.

Suddenly, a speaker appears from the ground as a voice appears

"Greetings girls, one of you will be selected to fight three robots while the others take a seat!" said some voice

Four chairs appeared behind Wasp, Mockingbird, Ms Marvel and Quake as the four superheroines sat down when their arms and legs get pinned to the chairs. They all were surprised.

"Huh?!" said Wasp.

"What the?!" said Mockingbird.

"Not good!" said Quake

"What kind of chair is this?" said Ms. Marvel who is struggling against the restraints along with the others.

The robots attack Black Widow who manages to use her skills to defeat them with her wrist blasters.

"Bravo Widow, impressive moves." said the voice.

"You're welcome!" said Black Widow.

"Time for you to take a seat!" said the anonymous voice.

Black Widow was later seized by a chair as her arms and legs gets clamped down.

"No!" said Black Widow.

"II'll be right back for a minute." said the anonymous voice.
